

Trinity E.M.S. and the Dracut Knights of Columbus Once Again
"SHARE THE HOLIDAY SPIRIT"

Each year during the Christmas season, Trinity E.M.S. transforms one of its ambulances into Santa's sleigh. Trinity, with the help and direction of the Dracut Knights of Columbus, spreads holiday cheer to children throughout local shelters and hospitals by delivering new toys. The group also provides welcoming gifts for new mothers and their infants.

The Dracut Knights of Columbus "SHARE THE HOLIDAY SPIRIT" was started in 1987 by Mike McCabe. He championed the project until his death in 2005. Since 1991, Trinity E.M.S. has participated in the effort to help make it possible for the Dracut Knights of Columbus to deliver the toys to needy children and families. "SHARE THE HOLIDAY SPIRIT" continues to this day with the help of Trinity E.M.S. and Roger Gagne and Leo Vezina of the Dracut Knights of Columbus.
